LIGHTS BLAZED ON WATERFRONT

Japanese Warships Illuminated
for Admiral's Official Banquet.

Illuminated in outline from bulwarks to trucks, the two cruises Soya and Aso, of the Imperial Japanese squadron, presented a spectacular appearance last evening on the occasion of Admiral Iijima's dinner in honor of Governor Frear and Mayor Fern, at which were present representatives of the naval and military services stationed in Oahu. The flag ship Soya was in gala attire, for the dinner was given in the cabin of that vessel to which the Admiral recently transferred his flag. The after deck over which the canvas canopy was drawn was decorated in a novel manner. Along the ridge pole were beautiful Japanese lanterns. Flags and pennants were strung in an artistic manner.

The special decorations were a matter of pride to the officers and a source of admiration from the guests. In the stern of the afterdeck was a scene representing the most famous of Japan's scenic points—Hutami ga Ura. Two rocky points appeared in the foreground, the highest topped with a torii. A cable swung between the two. Beyond was a painted scene representing an inland scene with little vessels showing and in the background a Sunburst Flag was shown cleverly to represent the rising of the sun over the scene. Another scene was that of Amanohashidate, second in importance only to Hutami ga Ura. Cherry blossoms were shown in profusion, as also were chrysanthemums. The decorations were all done by the enlisted men.

CONKLING BECOMES THE TREASURER TODAY

Lloyd Conkling will become the fully qualified and regularly commissioned Treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii today, taking up the duties that have been performed by Attorney General Hemenway since A. J. Campbell's term of office expired with the adjournment of the Legislature.

Mr. Conkling returned from Hawaii on the Mauna Loa yesterday in response to the wireless message that was sent to him by Governor Frear, and he was in conference with the Territory's Chief Executive during the morning.

The new Treasurer will qualify on his bond of $25,000 today, and will immediately take up his duties in the Treasurer's office. Mr. Conkling stated yesterday that the appointment came as something of a surprise, but that he was naturally pleased at the mark of confidence.

"My work in the Secretary's office has always been pleasant, said Mr. Conkling, and those who worked with me are entitled to much credit for their labors during the strenuous days of the Legislative session. I will take up the duties of Treasurer with a desire to do the best I can."

Mr. Conkling's successor as chief clerk in the executive department has not yet been announced.

WORLD'S ARTISTS AND ORATORS FOR THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

Everything is progressing favorably in the matter of Honolulu's celebration of the glorious Fourth of July this year. As the Fourth falls on next Sunday, the celebration proper will be held on the following day, but Sunday will not altogether be slighted. Services have been arranged to be held in Central Union church in the evening, and a special program, which is being arranged by Dr. Scudder, will be rendered. One of the features of the Sunday evening program will be the address by Dr. Thomas Green, who will give his high-class lecture entitled "The Red, White and Blue."

Adjutant General J. W. Jones, had a conference with George R. Carter, Col. Schuyler of the Fifth Cavalry, and others yesterday, with the result that the makeup of the parade was arranged. There will be one squadron and the band from the Fifth Cavalry, troops from Fort Shafter, a battalion of United States Marines, and the National Guard of Hawaii in the parade.

While the line of march has not yet been definitely decided upon, the tentative plans are for the military organizations to form at the corner of Miller and Hotel streets, march through the Executive building grounds to King street, along King to Fort, then to Beretania, from Beretania to Nuuanu, then to Merchant, and along Merchant

WILL CENSOR THEIR PICTURES

Park, Empire, Gem and Aloha
Theaters Will Improve Their Shows.

With but one exception, the managers of every moving picture show in up-town Honolulu has decided to impose a very strict censorship on all films before they are shown on the curtain. Public opinion for a time was ready to rise up in arms against the display of suggestive pictures, and the managers of the Empire, the Gem, the Aloha, and the Park, stated yesterday that they would carefully inspect all films before they were shown, and throw out those that might prove objectionable. The manager of the Art Theater, Mr. Lawson, stated that his pictures were all right and that he intended to keep them in the future just as they are at the present.

"The people like pictures that are spicy," said Lawson yesterday. "They like a dash of spice. If there are any prudes who don't like the class of pictures I am showing let them stay away. They don't have to come to my shows. I don't need them."

Manager Overend of the Empire stated that he made it a point to look over his films before they were shown and that in the past he has thrown out many as unfit for use here. He stated that he had repeatedly cautioned the agents from whom he secured his pictures to send only the best stuff here, but they sent the pictures according to numbers, never giving the subject of the picture a thought. Overend said that he would in the future impose a strict censorship on his pictures.

On about the first of April a censorship over all the pictures made in the United States will come into effect here as the result of a crusade started against the indecent pictures which were being shown on the mainland. The censorship has already been begun over pictures which are being shown in the States, a committee of the New York civic bodies, with John Collier, of Collier's magazine as chairman, conducting the work. The films

STREET CAR AND AUTO IN MIX-UP

Owing to a lack of attention to the importance of caution at street car crossings an accident occurred yesterday afternoon about 5:30 opposite the Moana Hotel, the occupants of an automobile narrowly escaping injury. An auto driven by a doctor was coming out of Hon. A. S. Clegghorn's lane to Kalaheua avenue when a street car bound for town came along the track. There was no time to get out of the way and the trolley car's fender caught the machine and dragged it some distance, until the auto struck a telephone pole. Something had to give and the auto gave. But by this time the street car had been brought to a standstill.

The occupants of the auto, including two ladies, jumped from the machine and were not hurt. The damage to the machine will amount to about $50.

SUFFRAGETTES FIGHT POLICE AND MANY ARE ARRESTED

PREMIER ASQUITH, OF GREAT BRITAIN, WHOM THE SUFFRAGETTES WOULD INTERVIEW.

MADAME PELE IS TO BE COURTED BY MANY SAVANTS

Professor Jaggard, the eminent volcanologist, accompanied by Professor Reginald Daly, of Boston, well known in geological circles, departed for the Volcano House yesterday on the Mauna Kea. Professor Jaggard will conduct Professor Daly over some of the ground he is already acquainted with, and Professor Daly will remain a month or six weeks, and possibly two months on Hawaii, during which time he will endeavor to scale Mauna Kea and Mauna Loa and some of the lesser mountains, making a geological study of them. Professor Jaggard returns to Honolulu next week in order to leave for the mainland on the Mongolia en route to Boston.

In September, Professor Jaggard will return to Honolulu accompanied by a Professor Hosmer, who will be his chief assistant in the scientific project which has in view a close study of the volcano of Kilauea, the lava, both molten and cooled, the gases, heat, etc. Professor Hosmer will bring some very fine and delicately adjusted instruments to determine the chemical composition of the gases exhaled by Kilauea, as well as to take the temperature of the glow emanating from the pit of Halemauana.

While Professor Jaggard was in Japan and on his present scientific tour of observation, there has been a change of presidents of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Professor Daly in discussing the proposition to establish an observation station at Kilauea, discovered that the new president was thoroughly in accord with the proposition to make a close study of Kilauea, and this in the absence of any report from Professor Jaggard.

This is not only the best of news to Professor Jaggard, but to President Morgan, L. A. Thurston and other gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce who have taken hold of the proposition and are raising the funds to carry on the work. Half of the necessary amount to start the work has been raised.

ORDERS LUNCH FOR HUNDREDS

Hawaiian Hotel to Be Thrown Open for Passengers of Cleveland.

Seven hundred and fifty passengers of the 18,000-ton steamship Cleveland will be lunched at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel at noon, January 23, 1910, and the same number are to be served with lunch at the same hotel again on February 12.

Acting Manager Foster of the Young Hotel has received a letter from Clark, head of the Clark's Tours, who are handling the Cleveland's Around the World Tour, asking that preparations be made to serve lunch to this great host of visitors. Some months ago the proposition was taken up by Clark with the management of the Young Hotel, but it was thought to be too big for the hotel to handle. Then came the idea to utilize the Hawaiian Hotel and to this end the kitchens will be opened and the guests served at two sittings in the big dining hall. Ewa lanai and the two circular lanais.

The Cleveland will arrive here the morning of January 23 and her passengers will spend most of the day sightseeing, including a visit to the Aquarium. After lunch the travelers will be taken to Waikiki where surf board riding canoes races and various aquatic sports will be enjoyed.

The vessel sails for San Francisco the following evening. The vessel will return with an entire new list of 750 passengers on February 12, reversing the itinerary back to New York.

ACCEPT ROYAL TOMB BID TODAY

Diplomatic Complications Are Adjusted at a Recent Conference.

With the adjustment of all the difficulties that threatened to produce dissension in connection with the building of a mausoleum, to contain the bones of the dead Chiefs of Hawaii, Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell is congratulating himself on the accomplishment of something which should place him in the front rank of the diplomats.

It was a very delicate situation that developed after the Territorial Legislature had appropriated the sum of $20,000 for the construction of a royal mausoleum and the acceptance of a bid this afternoon will conclude the preliminary details of an affair which for a time promised to jeopardize the entente cordiale existing between Queen Liliuokalani, Prince Kuhio and the government.

In the first place, the Legislature in its appropriation specified that the mausoleum was to provide for the reception of the remains of "the dead chiefs of Hawaii." A strict interpretation of this phrase would seem to mean that the remains of the ex-Queen could not rest within the sepulture in the event of her death, she being alive at the time the appropriation was authorized by the Legislature.

This and the interior arrangement of the vault as shown in the plans drawn by the board of public works did not altogether meet with the approval of the Queen and Prince Kuhio was used as a peacemaker.

ASCH AS JAILER; KAIA ASSISTANT

Julius Asch is the man Sheriff Jarrett has named as Jailer at the Honolulu jail, the institution which will come under the direct control of the City and County on July 1. As his deputy at the jail, Sheriff Jarrett has named George Kaia, who has been assistant foreman on the Advertiser for considerable time past.

Both these appointments are on their merits, according to a statement made by the Sheriff last evening. George Kaia is well-known as a square, upright and reliable man, and Julius Asch, says Jarrett, "needs no introduction to Honolulu."

With regard to the other appointments, the Sheriff has not yet come to any decisions. He has numerous applicants for the other places he has to fill, but he has not decided on them yet. There will be two turnkeys and six guards appointed at the Honolulu jail, and then there are the jailers for each of the five other districts of the city and county. The Sheriff may make his selections with regard to these today.

JAPANESE HOTELS RAIDED BY FENNEL

License Inspector Fennell and two members of the detective force descended upon the two Kukui street Japanese hotels last night and interfered seriously with a number of little dinner parties going on. Acting under search warrants he went through the Hirano and the Malmoto houses, finding booze in the ice chest of the former and lots of it on the short-legged tables in the various diningrooms of the latter. Among the diners were two prominent Japanese of Honolulu, an officer from the Japanese cruisers and several geishas.

No arrests were made last night, but as a result of the searches, some will probably be made today.
